

This week has been a crazy week, i took on the challenge of converting a Snitz forum to a phpbb3 forum.

heres a before picture

As you can see the snitz forum skin was very bland and ran on a MSSQL database, the first job with a conversion like this was to convert the MSSQL database to a MySQL database that would work with a phpbb3 forum.

The whole conversion from start to finish took around 8 hours, all data has been trasfered and included apart from private messages.

After doing the conversion i then skinned the phpbb3 forum to look like the joomla main site that the customer had.

Board index

[Moderator Control Panel]

CHAT FORUMS

Forum	Last post	Posts	Topics
Introduce yourself Come in and say hi, don't forget your jiffas	No posts	0	0
Top Tips and Solutions Post your top tips or solution to problems in here	No posts	0	0
The Lock Up Grab your brew 'n' jiffas and pop in the lock up for all your chat, gossip and wild stories	No posts	0	0

GENERAL MAGAZINE STUFF

No birthdays today

Moderator Control Panel

- Latest New Posts 2009-10-21 19:34
- Latest New Posts 2009-10-21 19:34
- All News 1/2

- View unanswered posts
- View active topics
- View hot posts
- View your posts
- Mark forums read

When completing this the customer has requested a duplicate use the one information form to show you are completing this the customer has requested a duplicate use the one information form to show